Two old soldiers faced Burgess Evans in police court yesterday morning and were discharged. One was John Huey of Dawson, aged 76; the other John McMullen, aged 68, from Danville, Ill. McMullen left "Uncle Joe" Cannon's town some time back. Both pleaded for leniency and promised to get out of town.

After being discharged Huey was escorted to the Dawson street car by Chief George Hetzel but got only as far as the West Side. He came back but gave the police no further trouble.

One drunk who raised trouble at home and resulted in the police being called early this morning was discharged on a promise to behave himself in the future. Another drunk drew 48 hours. Burgess Evans held police court at 7.30 this morning.

Armistice May be Made Longer

United Press Telegram.

EL PASO, Texas, April 24.—It was learned this morning that should there be need of a longer period than five days in which to complete the peace negotiations, the armistice signed yesterday by General Madero and Navarro outside of Juarez, will be extended.

Negotiations so far have been conducted with the Diaz government at Mexico City by telegraph; but both sides will probably appoint peace commissioners with full powers to meet before the week is over.

Bibles for Hotels Over in Greensburg

A movement has been set afoot in Greensburg by the Commercial Travelers association known as the Gideons whereby each hotel in the city will be supplied with a Bible. The Greensburg ministers will ask their congregations to aid in raising funds.

The Gideons are members of the Commercial Travelers' Association of which there are some 6,000 or 7,000 in the country. A candidate must be a believer in the Bible and a Christian.

The work of the Gideons is to better conditions among the traveling men. The Bibles which are placed in the hotels are stamped with the association seal and button but contain no marks or advertisements. Thousands of Bibles have been placed in hotels throughout the country.

The supply of Bibles ordered for Greensburg may not arrive for some weeks owing to the large demand the association has recently made upon the publishing house for books.

Roy Ellam is Hurt in Game

Roy Ellam, one of the most popular of Coker players is out of the game as the result of an accident which broke his collar bone. Ellam collided with another player at second base down in Birmingham and is now out of the game.

This is a big disappointment to Ellam, the Birmingham management and the fans there. He was playing the best game of his career and as a result of careful tuition under Sherwood Magee during the spring training season had improved wonderfully in his hitting. Ellam's fielding during the first few games of the season indicated he had no superior at shortstop in the Southern League.

RAILS TAKEN UP IN GREENWOOD.

Friction Between Western Waryland and West Penn is Denied.

RUMORS ARE TO THE CONTRARY

Reason For Removing Rails is That Injunction and Bridge Plans Hold Up the Work—W. E. Moore Says Companies Have Agreed.

Reports that the Western Maryland and the West Penn have failed to reach an agreement in Greenwood, that the rails were removed at the suggestion of the trolley company because the new railroad was trespassing, are denied.

Division Engineer J. I. Palmer of the Connellsville & State Line railroad stated today that there was no trouble between his railroad and the West Penn. He stated the rails were taken up because the Hill Construction Company needed the iron at the southern end of the Greenwood work, where the earth is now being dumped. Mr. Palmer said the only thing holding up work in the northern end of the Greenwood work was the injunction pending against the company and delay in receiving plans for the viaducts over the two streets to be crossed.

Chief Engineer J. L. Fritsch of the West Penn today declined to talk about the situation. He said he understood the tracks had been removed from the West Penn's property in Greenwood but declined to state whether there was any unpleasantness between the two corporations.

The statements of Chief Engineer Fritsch and Division Engineer J. I. Palmer, coupled with the assurance given some weeks ago by Operating Manager W. E. Moore of the West Penn that the companies had reached an agreement, all indicate that Dame Rumor is in wrong over the reports of friction.

Italian Mafia Claims Another Victim

United Press Telegram.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Italian mafia has claimed another victim in New York. The body of Antonio Vedernano of Brooklyn was found today in a vacant lot opposite No. 25 Morgan street. The man had been shot and his body mutilated after death.

Mrs. Annie Morgan, who resides across the street, told the police she had been awakened by a fusillade of shots after midnight and looking through the window saw two men carrying a body to the lot. Mrs. Morgan was too frightened to give the alarm until daylight.

Peculiar marks on the man's face indicate that he was the victim of a vendetta.

Evidence Against Alleged Dynamiters

United Press Telegram.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 24.—The Marion County Grand Jury convened here today to investigate the finding of dynamite in the basement of the American Central Light building, in which the offices of J. J. McNamara, alleged leader of the dynamite gang operating throughout the country, were located.

Prosecuting Attorney Baker would not state definitely the actual object of the convening of the Grand Jury, or the probable consequence; but declared a thorough investigation would be made. Detective William J. Burns, who arrested McNamara, is today in Ohio, securing more evidence in the case.

Both Governor Marshall and Judge Collins today defended their action in turning McNamara over to the California authorities. Both declared their friendliness toward organized labor.

In a statement to the United Press this morning Prosecutor Baker said:

"In handling these cases there is one thing we are going to be sure of and that is that everybody gets a square deal. We will investigate the finding of dynamite in the American Central Life Building and two theories will be worked on; first, that McNamara placed the dynamite there as the detectives claimed, and, second, that the dynamite was 'planted' in order to prove the charges against the labor leaders.

"As to the manner in which McNamara and McManigal were arrested and taken from the State, I am not certain that the Grand Jury can go into this. The statutes provide, however, the procedure that shall be followed in an arrest of this kind. You can judge for yourselves whether they acted within the statutes."

Accused's Mother Has Faith in Sons

United Press Telegram.

CINCINNATI, O. April 24.—Mrs. Mary McNamara, of this city, mother of John J. and James McNamara, under arrest for complicity in the Los Angeles dynamite outrage, declared today that she has absolute faith in the innocence of her two boys.

"How can they say such things of my boys, my good boys?" she exclaimed. "Joe, we always called John that, has been such a good son. Jimmy has too; but Joe has been closer. Why, he was here Easter Sunday and took such an interest in things about the house. He means everything to me, although they say he is suspected of such horrible things. You ought to know Joe. He is so clean, and strong and fine."

The Sunday newspapers gave Mrs. McNamara the first intimation of the trouble in which her sons figure.

Plans for Defense of the McNamaras

United Press Telegram.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 24.—Labor leaders here conferred all day yesterday in secret, and today announced that they had completed plans for the defense of James W. McNamara, John T. McNamara and Ortie E. McManigal, who are being brought here, charged with dynamiting the Times building.

The first step will probably be an application for a writ of habeas corpus to secure the release of the accused men.

A representative of the District Attorney's office said today that no fewer than 20 men would be arrested for complicity in the dynamite outrage.

Labor Federation to Help McNamara

United Press Telegram.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The entire American Federation of Labor, with its membership of nearly 3,000,000 and vast funds, will rally to the support of John McNamara, the labor leader accused of being implicated in the Los Angeles Times dynamite horror. President Samuel Gompers today reiterated his declaration that McNamara had been unlawfully arrested and ctually kidnapped.

At the same time he asserted that every resource of the great organization would be used to aid the accused man.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(Special.)—The President today named to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, Henry H. Boutelle of Illinois to Switzerland; Edwin V. Morgan of New York to Portugal; Laurits S. Swenson of Minnesota to Norway.

WESTERN MARYLAND NEEDS GOOD WEATHER

Rapid Progress Can be Made if the Rain Holds Off Few Weeks.

APRIL HAS BEEN BAD MONTH

Contractors Expected to Make Up for Time Lost in March But Were Disappointed—Bridges are Nearing Completition Now.

At the offices of Division Engineer J. I. Palmer of the Connellsville & State Line railroad this morning there was an air of hope that the weather would continue as pleasant as it started out this morning. The bad weather of this month has been a big disappointment to the engineers and contractors along the new railroad. March wasn't any better but all expected a dry spell in April that would enable them to make up for lost time. Up to the present the dry spell failed to make good for more than a couple of days at infrequent intervals.

If the weather of today holds out the big bridge across the White's Creek branch of the Baltimore & Ohio near Confluence will be completed by the first of the month. This bridge has given considerable trouble ever since it was started but the workmen are coming down the home stretch with the concrete work now.

The west bridge at Ohiopyle is practically completed and the finishing touches are being put on. There are two immense concrete piers to this bridge 100 feet high.

Times' Comments on the Arrests

United Press Telegram.

LOS ANGELES, April 24.—The Los Angeles Times today in discussing the arrest of the McNamaras and McManigal says:

"These men who are alleged to have assisted in blowing up The Times plant and to have assassinated its faithful and defenseless employes, will be brought here and tried. If convicted they will be hanged. Their death and the deaths of thousands like them will not expatiate the foul crime but it will serve to warn the closed shops of union labor that in attempting to carry out their propaganda of violence they are up aglast the bulwarks of society.

"These villains are the Camorrists of the United States."

Attorney Darrow Hurries to Defend

United Press Telegram.

CHICAGO, April 24.—Accompanied by John Fitzpatrick, President of the Chicago Federation of Labor, Clarence S. Darrow, the noted criminal lawyer hurried from his office this afternoon, entered a taxicab and drove away. Asked if he was going to Indianapolis, he refused to say but replied, "You are a good guesser."

Darrow had just concluded a long distance telephone conversation with labor leaders in the Indianapolis capital. It is said that there will be a conference there with many of the leading labor union men of the country.

CHICAGO, April 24.—Clarence S. Darrow, the noted labor lawyer who defended Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone in the Coeur De'Alene cases will probably not defend the McNamara brothers and McManigal if a younger man can be secured to conduct the defense in the Los Angeles dynamiting case.

The Season Month Behind

The weather today indicated that the rains of the past several weeks may be nearing an end for the present. The temperature was low, hovering around 40 degrees, the night cold and accompanied by considerable frost in the country districts. The frost did no damage because vegetation is not advanced to a point where a heavy frost could kill it.

A warm spell at this time will result in the grass springing up quickly. Little new grass has appeared because of continued cold but the ground is well soaked and a few warm days will make a transformation in spring verdure.

The spring this year has been more backward than in years past. Farmers have done but little plowing and those who did get an early start in many instances will have to go over their fields once more.

Experienced farmers report that vegetables will be late this year and but few of them have been planted. Although March is the month for putting tubers in the ground few potatoes have been planted. No oats have been sown and they are usually scattered during the middle of April. Farmers say the spring has been good for wheat and grass, and the fruit trees were protected from frosts by the cold which held back the buds. Fruit should be plentiful, they say.

GAS FUMES KILL THOMAS JORDAN.

Resident of Vanderbilt Overcome as He Slept and Found Dead.

HOUSEKEEPER MAY DIE

In Serious Condition and Unconscious at Cottage Hospital—Party Forcing Way Into House Saturday Found Two Gas Stoves Red Hot.

Thoms Jordan, aged 70, is dead and Mrs. Susan White, aged 65, is unconscious at the Cottage State hospital as the result of leaving two gas stoves burning when they retired at Jordan's home at Vanderbilt on Friday night. Jordan was found dead in his bed down stairs and Mrs. White was unconscious in bed in her room up stairs when a party of Vanderbilt citizens broke into the house Saturday afternoon. They had noticed that there was no sign of life about the house, something unusual and gained an entrance through an upstairs window which was partly open.

It was noticed by the neighbors about noon Saturday that there had been no signs of life in the Jordan home, and the man's brother, John Jordan, was called. He, with several other men including Dr. Hazlett, R. P. Smith, and Frank Galley, went to the house at once. They found the doors locked and the keys on the inside. The glass in the windows was so hot that they burned the men's fingers when an attempt was made to raise the windows.

When it was noticed that an upstairs window was partly raised an entrance was made by that means. An investigation disclosed Mrs. White in bed apparently dead. The room was filled with fumes that came from the direction of the stairway. Dr. Hazlett examined the woman and found that life was not extinct. The men then went down stairs.

When the stair door was opened the men were nearly suffocated by the fumes that met them. They continued their search, however, and discovered Jordan dead in bed. Dr. Hazlett made a hasty examination. The man had probably been dead several hours. He had been ill for some time and it is thought that the gas pressure increased during the night and caused the excessive heat that will in all probability result in two deaths. One of the gas stoves was near Jordan's bed and the other was in an adjoining room, the door of which was open. Apparently Jordan's death was accidental.

Jordan was well known in the vicinity of Vanderbilt. He had spent the greater part of his life there. For a number of years he had followed the carpenter and cabinet making trade.

At noon today it was stated at the hospital that Mrs. White was in a critical condition and still unconscious.

COFFEE CONGESTION

Causes a Variety of Ills.

A happy old lady in Wisconsin says: "During the time I was a coffee drinker I was subject to sick headaches, sometimes lasting 2 or 3 days, totally unfitting me for anything.

To this affliction was added, some years ago, a trouble with my heart that was very painful, accompanied by a smothering sensation and faintness.

Dyspepsia, also, came to make life harder to bear. I took all sorts of patent medicines but none of them helped me for any length of time.

"The doctors frequently told me that coffee was not good for me; but without coffee I felt as if I had no breakfast. I finally decided about 7 years ago to abandon the use of coffee entirely, and as I had read a great deal about Postum I concluded to try that for a breakfast beverage.

"I liked the taste of it and was particularly pleased to notice that it did not 'come up' as coffee used to. The bad spells with my heart grew less and less frequent, and finally ceased altogether, and I have not had an attack of sick headache for more than a year. My digestion is good, too, and I am thankful that I am once more a healthy woman. I know my wonderful restoration to health came from quitting coffee and using Postum." Name given by the Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is this. Coffee has a direct action on the liver with some people, and causes partial congestion of that organ preventing the natural outlet of the secretions. Then may follow biliousness, sallow skin headaches, constipation and finally a change of the blood corpuscles and nervous prostration.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

AN AD FOR A WIFE

Brought a Pittsburg Man Over One Thousand Replies.

A man in Pittsburg advertised for a wife and received over 1,000 answers. Possibly this is because there are 50,000 more women than men in the United States or because many men either do not marry or do not take a wife until late in life.

The girl of today who is wise will make provision for her own future. Even if the right man comes, a little money for furnishing a home or for a trousseau will be something very nice to have. A Savings Account is the best possible way for a girl to accumulate money because her savings will earn more money without any worry or bother about investments on her part. The First National, the oldest and strongest National bank in Connellsville, pays 4 per cent. $1 opens an account.

Little Newsboy Disease Victim

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTDALE, April 24.—Earl Stanton Murray, aged 11 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Murray of Kingsview, was the victim of that dreadful disease cerebro spinal meningitis, last night, dying at 9 o'clock. The little boy was a newsboy, having sold The Courier exclusively for over a year, outside of school time. He had been ill for four days, and in spite of the best medical attention could not be brought through to safety. The funeral was this afternoon at 2 o'clock and in accordance with the State health laws covering deaths from this disease was entirely private and within 36 hours from the time of death.

The deceased boy worked for Thomas H. Rutherford, the newsdealer and stationer, as did also a brother, Stephen R. Rutherford, who has charge of the newsboys was much affected today by the death of the little boy, whom he had in his employ for over a year. "He was quiet, honest, industrious and always had his collections right up," said Mr. Rutherford. "The boy had the spirit of a real business man and it is particularly sad for a boy of such promise to die."

Mr. Rutherford and the newsboys arranged to have flowers taken over to the house, before the funeral this afternoon at Mt. Olive Cemetery.

Name Free List to Fool Farmers

Special to The Courier.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—"A bill to fool the farmer," is the term applied to the Democratic free list bill by Representative Dalzell in the report written by him in behalf of the Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee and subscribed by them. He made some interesting and important points. In the first place, farm implements are reciprocally free in the Payne act, so that there is no need to put them on the free list. In the second place, the southern planter, who is given free cotton ties, buys them from the manufacturer at less than 2 cents a pound, and markets them as cotton at 10 cents and upward a pound, according to the market.

In the third place, the Democrats, proclaiming themselves devotees of a tariff for revenue, give away nearly $7,000,000 per annum on cotton bagging, the present duty being non-protective and in its effect only a revenue raiser. Similarly they give away a duty on burlap. Then, with respect to meat products, which are made free under the pretense of compensating the farmer for free cattle, provided for in the reciprocity bill, it is pointed out that the farmer raises his own meat on his own farm, and that the actual effect of placing meat on the free list will be to introduce into this country Argentine and Australian refrigerated meats to compete against him in marketing the surplus of his farm.

The bill will be before the House of Representatives today, and Mr. Dalzell will have charge of the debate on the Republican side.

A beautiful display of needlework was opened today at the Arlington Hotel. All the latest novelties for beading, cross-stitch and Oriental designs are being shown. THE GUARANTY FUND FOR INDUSTRIAL ADVANCEMENT.

The Scottdale Chamber of Commerce prints an interesting outline of its aims, which we hope will prove to be its achievements. Its officers have the right idea, and if they are properly supported by the citizens of substance they will be able to accomplish much for the advancement of the community and the common prosperity of its people.

The Guaranty Fund plan is the most practical ever presented, but it is also the most difficult to put into practical use. The obligation looms so largely up that it frightens the timid mind, and the average business mind is long on caution and short on risk. Yet the obligation is more apparent than real; experience has shown that it is never demanded in full; and, under the plan, there is always a material asset remaining in the guaranteed plant as an offset to the obligations of the guarantors.

Perhaps a more serious drawback is that always numerous and often large contingent who want to ride on the Car of Progress and let the other fellows do the pushing. The trouble with this class of Undesirable Citizens is that the community cannot rid themselves of them as did the ancient Greeks. There is no law of banishment here. These Old Men of the Sea, who ride on the back of every Progressive Community, may not be shaken off. They have to be carried, and they are sometimes a back-breaking load; they are sprags in the wheels of industry; their example makes murmurings among the people and is as cold water upon the fires of enthusiastic public spirit.

The classification of desirable and undesirable industries made by Secretary Kelley is a very just analysis of a rather complicated proposition. The wise community does not embrace every tramp industry that comes along, but takes plenty of time to make exhaustive inquiry into its personnel and possibilities. Like Scottdale, it rejects industries, (1) organized by persons whose sympathies are not with the town; (2) industries based on land companies and lot sales; and (3) industries demanding cash bonuses.

The successful Chamber of Commerce gives small consideration to any such industries and pins its faith to industries organized by practical people who have good propositions, but who lack sufficient capital to finance them properly. We say sufficient capital, because no enterprise is safe if the town is called upon to furnish all or any considerable proportion of the capital. The Guaranty Fund is very properly limited to an investment of from 40 to 50 per cent. of the capital of the locating company, and this is secured by a mortgage on the whole. It is not an investment; it is a loan. If the industry is worthy and well-managed it will be profitable, and its profits are due the organizers and workers. Its incidental benefits will furnish the town's profits and the recompense above legal interest for its loan.

THE VALUE OF THE DIAGRAM IN EVIDENCE.

In legal circles it is generally conceded that a case well prepared is more than half won. We are, therefore, safe in assuming that the coal and coke rate cases of the Pittsburg and Connellsville districts, now before the Interstate Commerce Commission, are in a fair way to successful conclusion, thanks to the indefatigable energy and thorough research of John W. Belleau, the chief insurrecto.

Mr. Belleau is a geographical and geological artist, and a firm believer in the utility of the diagram to illustrate and drive home an argument. He is in Washington with a $3,000 mammoth map of the whole transportation situation, accompanied by a dozen or more telling diagrams, which we make no doubt will prove to be the most powerful arguments brought before the commission.

The eloquence of attorneys often charms the ear, but its impression fades when the pleasing sound of its voice is stilled. The maps and diagrams remain. Their arguments never cease. They are silent yet they speak on, and their arguments sink deeper and deeper into the understanding.

The coke operators could not have had a better man in the preparation of their case than John W. Belleau.

The Roderick mining code by the confession of its author will increase the cost of coal getting three cents per ton. It is possible that the coal operators may be able to collect this additional cost from the consumer, but it is doubtful whether the coke operators will be able to do so. They certainly will have no assurances of collecting it unless they get much closer together than they have ever been in recent years.

The West Side is growing to meet its new railroad conditions.

The State Constabulary will undertake the protection of the trout streams. The Youghiogheny would have been a splendid bass stream today if it had been protected against the dynamiters, the netters, the polluters and divers other destructive elements.

A Minnesota court has decided that railroads are entitled to a return only on the cost of their reproduction, or in other words upon their actual physical value; and a railroad expert figures that if this is held to be good law, the railroads will be entitled to charge more toll than they now receive by $580,000,000 annually. The new precedent set up by the Minnesota court seems to have a disastrous backfire.

The proposed United States Bureau of Domestic Science promises to bring reform to our kitchens.—News Item.

Gasoline is more dangerous than powder. Powder doesn't explode unless fire comes in actual contact with it; gasoline reaches out for the fire.

The Weather Man is trying to get out from under the cloud.

Somerset county people have discovered a Holland fortune awaiting them, but the legal profession have a surer thing.

The Sutersville toll bridge company is reported to be so dissatisfied with the award of the viewers that they will appeal the matter to the higher courts. There's nothing strange about this. It's a way toll bridge companies have.

These flirtations of old Winter with young Spring are very annoying to Earth beings old and young.

The Democratic Free List is a fair sample of the fool Tariff legislation the Opposition would enact. No wonder business is uneasy and capital timid.

The State Railroad Commission inspected and considered the propriety of an overhead railroad crossing at Uniontown. This crossing is practically outside of the town. Connellsville has a number of grade crossings right in the heart of the town, in the line of traffic often congested. They will have to remain grade crossings, but they ought to be protected by safety gates in some places.

It costs something to board, but there's no use adding costs on the bill by trying to dodge it.

The trout fishing thus far has been rather sloppy and unsatisfactory, but better weather is coming.

Connellsville is just now actively engaged in the business of tearing down and raising up, so that nothing shall be lost to the community.

Gideon wasn't a drummer, but he employed a number of trumpeters.

The Public Utilities bill is on the firing line at Harrisburg this week.

The backward spring has been a disappointment to the Western Maryland officers and contractors as well as to the farmers. Both interests have been kept back a month in their calculations.

The Frick ovens are not blowing out to give the employes a chance to play baseball.

The morals of the average circus are not too high to be above suspicion, hence the propriety of local supervision and regulation by the representatives of the law.

It is worthy of note that Booth & Flinn are still Pittsburg's official contractors.

Dynamite seems to be a stock argument of some labor unions.

The Buffalo protest against inequitable coke rates is under investigation by an agent of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Connellsville and Pittsburg rate cases are so well prepared that it will perhaps not be necessary to send any special agents out this way after the hearing.

If the Interstate Commerce Commission would show the Connellsville coke operators how to get what they ought to have for their coke, the latter would probably be willing to suffer freight discriminations awhile longer.

There are days when the right of Pittsburg to be called the Smoky City may not be denied.

Black Lick was lustily licked.

Ponce is hovering over Mexico. The Grangers are probably tired fighting for the delectation of the Americans gathered on the border to watch and criticise them.

A Cambria county foreign banker has failed for $40,000. The best savings banks are the National or State banks or trust companies this for the reason that they are periodically inspected and regulated by the National and State Governments.

The name of E. M. Blatt, the youth who was released from a Mexican prison where he was confined on a charge of having been engaged in the insurrection, promises to be I. M. Brag if he gives out any more interviews.

The Legislature promises to give big boroughs city government whether they want it or not. The new form of city government are very stylish now, but like the hobble and harem skirts they are not likely to last very long.

The Pittsburg Plan is a good plan to abandon.

The unfeeling Greensburg Tribune says that up to date Farmer Creasy has done all his farming on the lecture platform.

EVERSON SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

A Class Will be Graduated on Wednesday Evening . From That Place.

BUT THREE MEMBERS THIS YEAR

Appropriate Exercises Will Be Held in the United Brethren Church—Doctors Lead In Making Sidewalk Improvements—Was Quiet Saturday.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTDALE, April 24.—The annual commencement of the Everson schools will take place on Wednesday evening, being held in the Everson United Brethren church as usual. The exercises will be at 8 o'clock and the following program will be rendered. It will open with the invocation by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Hayes and music by Barkell's orchestra. The Seventh and Eighth grades will sing a chorus. The address "The American Flag" will be given by Harry E Smith. Miss Edna Hayes will sing a solo. "Our Heroes" is the subject of the address by Walter L. Reese. "America" by Myrtle Layman, follows, and music by the orchestra and a vocal solo by Miss Hayes. Charles H Franks will deliver an address and the diplomas will be presented by Landis Tanger, supervising principal of the Scottdale schools. The graduates are Myrtle M. Layman, Walter L. Reese and Harry E. Smith.

Trip Around the World.

The Young Ladies' Bible class of the United Evangelical church is getting ready to produce an entertainment of around the world on May 16. There will be seven foreign countries on the visitation.

Lecture on Mexico.

Miss Lyda Hayes, a missionary from Mexico, will deliver a lecture on the work there at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. Members of all missionary societies are invited to be present. No admission will be charged.

A Bad Evening.

Saturday evening was a quiet one in town, the most of the people apparently preferring to remain at home during the close of a rainy and disagreeable day. The country people, on account of the bad weather, were poorly represented during the evening, the most of them having come in during the day and then hurrying home about dusk. The streets were without much life, although there was a fair amount of business transacted. The police had no trouble and the lockup contained only one prisoner on Sunday morning and he was in for a night's lodging.

The Creek Services.

There was a good sized congregation at the Jacobs Creek Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon. The pastor, Rev. P. O. Wagner, preached a sermon suited to the time in celebration of the 300th anniversary of the Bible in the King James version. This was followed by the communion. Next Sunday forenoon, District Superintendent R. S. Ross will preach at Wesley Chapel and in the evening in the First Methodist Episcopal church of Scottdale, the preaching to be followed by the third quarterly conference. On Saturday afternoon the quarterly conference of the Jacobs Creek church conference will be held in the study of Rev. R. H. Mansell.

The Doctors Lead.

In these last few days of great rains the enterprise of Chestnut street doctors is looked upon with satisfaction by travellers on that street. Dr. L. T. Gilbert, Dr. N. H. Silsley and Dr. O. J. Hess have all put down fine stone sidewalks, and have thus removed at least that much of bad pavements. A long list of bad sidewalks was presented by the Street Committee at the last meeting of Council but that body would do nothing, excusing themselves with the saying that to notify the owners to lay or repair their sidewalks in thirty days would likely leave the sidewalks unlaid on account of bad weather. It would have been better to have the notices started in the opinion of many people, thus giving the owners opportunity to secure contracts, which will be harder to get later. It would have done away earlier with the bad pavements.

Wm. A. Carroll Called by Death

William Asbury Carroll, aged 79 years, father of Assemblyman John S. Carroll, died Saturday night at his home in Wharton township. He passed away at his home in Elliottsville, after an illness of about one year. Joseph Carroll, aged 71, died at Huntingdon, February 1, while Barbara Carroll, aged 81, died at Smithfield, March 21. Mrs. Samuel Hager, of Farmington, the youngest of the family is the only survivor.

William A. Carroll had been ill for about a year but his serious illness dated back about five months. Several times during that time he was near death but each time he rallied. Saturday he gradually sank and his death resulted.

Mr. Carroll was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carroll and was born on the old Carroll farm near the Dennis distillery in Wharton township. From his boyhood he was engaged in farming and continued in that capacity all his life. The Carroll family moved to the present Carroll farm at Elliottsville in 1866 where William Carroll resided until his death.

He was married to Miss Caroline Hager, who died 32 years ago. To that union were born 10 children. The following survive, John S. Carroll, of Dunbar; Attorney J. G. Carroll, Mrs. Emma Bierer wife of W. S. Bierer, of Uniontown; S. C. Carroll, Uniontown; Mrs. Charles D. Coughanour, Uniontown, and W. T. Carroll, Uniontown. The deceased children are: Inda Ellen Smith, Elmer E. Carroll, D. N. Carroll, and Charles Carroll, who died in infancy. Mr. Carroll is also survived by 39 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The remains were brought to Uniontown Sunday and taken to the home of Attorney J. G. Carroll, 61 Ben Lomond street. Rev. J. Walter Carpenter will have charge of the funeral services which will be held at the J. G. Carroll home tonight at 7:30. The remains will be removed to the Van Sickle cemetery, near Farmington, tomorrow morning at 7:30 for interment.

The pall bearers will be the following nephews of the deceased: R. M. and C. J. Carroll and Charles and Joseph Hager.

Arctic Explorer is Eighty Today

Special to The Courier.

LONDON, April 24.—Sir George Nares, who won fame many years ago as an Arctic explorer and who retired from the British navy some 20 years ago with the rank of Vice Admiral, received the congratulations of a host of friends today on the occasion of his 80th birthday anniversary. Sir George first visited the Arctic region in 1852, a few years after he had entered the navy. In 1875-6 he commanded the expedition of the British warships "Alert" and "Discovery," which set out in search of the North Pole and succeeded in attaining the highest altitude that had been reached up to that time.

LUNATIC LASSOED.

West Leisenring Foreigner Taken From Roof of a House.

Ascending to the roof of his boarding house at West Leisenring early Saturday morning with the impression that he was being chased by robbers, John McNilton was removed by Sheriff P. A. Johns, Warden James Barnhart and Ed. Hustead by means of a lasso.

The man was dragged from the roof after the rope had been thrown over him from the rear and subdued to such an extent that he was removed to the county jail in Sheriff John's automobile. He was examined by two physicians yesterday and will be taken to Dixmont this morning by Deputy Sheriff Garret Emme.

HOW
I Was Cured of Malaria

"I was for over five years troubled with Malarial Fever. It would almost always come on in the Spring and would bother me for the remainder of the summer. I tried different medicines, but they did not seem to help me. I also had the doctor off and on for some time but the next year I would be troubled just the same and I would have to be at home for several weeks. I would be in bed one day and have chills and a heavy fever, and the next day I would be up about the house, and this is the way I would be for several weeks each summer.

"I finally decided to try some good blood medicine, so I began taking Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and found it did me lots of good. I began taking it early in the spring and continued taking it all through the summer. I found, after taking a few bottles, that my body was covered with pimples, and it seemed to drive all the humor out of my blood. After that I felt much better, and now I am just as healthy as ever I was, and I am never troubled with Malarial Fever."—GEORGE P. STRONG, 35 Groveland Street, Lynn, Mass. Thousands of people believe in

Pinkham's Blood Purifier

Malaria is caused by a parasite which gets into the blood, and unless the blood is in a healthy condition and has normal resisting properties, they attack and destroy the red corpuscles, and so seriously impair the general health.

Chills and fever are the most marked symptoms of Malaria, which can be cured by purifying and enriching the blood. Mr. Strong found that Pinkham's Blood Purifier cured him after all other means had failed, and what it did for Mr. Strong it will do for other sufferers.

Depositors Fear Banker Has Left

JOHNSTOWN, April 24.—The passage of time only increases the estimate of the alleged deficit in the accounts of M. F. Korlath, the Scalp Level foreign banker and steamship agent, who disappeared from that place a week ago. No word has been received from the missing banker, and whether he has gone to New York city or Connecticut, as reported, has yet to be developed. Since the disappearance of the clerk and the closing of the Korlath establishment Friday, anxious depositors have been besieging the place.

Korlath is said to have had five or six branch offices, including those at Patton and Windber. An estimate made last night is that the alleged shortage may exceed $80,000.

Shortly before he left Korlath sold a fine horse and buggy, but took with him several St. Bernard dogs which are said to have cost $100 each. Mrs. Korlath disappeared the same day as her husband. Attachments have been issued against Korlath by a number of the depositors.

Mine Code Will Boost Coal Three Cents a Ton.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 24.—James E. Roderick, State chief of mines, has made a calculation of the increased cost of mining in bituminous mines if the proposed code to regulate such operations becomes a law and places it at three cents a ton. The chief estimates that the average yearly production of bituminous coal is about 150,000,000 tons and if that figure be taken the additional expense will approximate $4,500,000. There is a difference of opinion over the increased cost, but the chief says he bases his estimate on a careful study of the subject and first hand information.

The code will be reported to the House tonight from the Mines and Mining Committee, and it is expected that numerous amendments will be offered when it reaches second reading. The chief says he realizes that it is difficult to frame a code that will suit both operator and miner, but declares the present proposed code is in advance of existing legislation and "if enacted into a law will place Pennsylvania in the front rank of the coal mining States in the matter of mining supervision and regulation.

"The bill was drawn," he says, "to give greater security to the safety of the miners and to the protection of property and these requirements will add to the cost of mining."

THE Laundry Bag says:

"The flat-iron is no respecter of collars.

"I've seen many a nobby shape become a knobby shape after a seance with the irons.

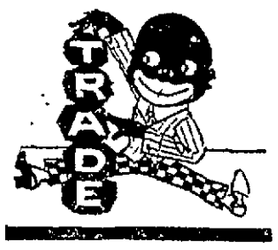

"Here's a gentle tip:

"If you want to be sure that your collars won't lose their shape in the laundry—get the hand-made brand.

"Costs you no more—and the shape stays. Note the name."

SAMPLING COAL

Federal Bureau Coal Experts Will Visit This District.

George S. Pope and E. W. Miller of the national bureau of mines at Washington took samples of the coal from Elkins mine No. 1 at Richard, W. Va., Saturday afternoon. Shepherd New General Manager

BALTIMORE, April 24.—Messrs. B. F. Bush, now head of the Missouri Pacific railroad, and Alexander Robertson, the newly elected President of the Western Maryland Railway Company, returned last night from New York and were at their offices in the Continental Trust building at an early hour today. About the first official act performed by the new head of the Western Maryland, after coming down town, was to announce the appointment of I. A. Shepherd, the present superintendent of the Maryland division of the Western Maryland, as general manager of the road, and W. Taylor Stringer now chief clerk to the vice president and general manager, as assistant to the president. President Robertson declared that both appointments would become effective on May 1 the time that he enters upon his duties as successor to Mr. Bush.

Mr. Shepherd received his railroad training under Mr. Robertson, having started in the business as a telegraph operator of the Wabash railroad when the present head of the Western Maryland held a minor position with that company.

CHAPTER XIV.

THE flat freight rate was a tremendous sensation. It was hailed as the great utopian realization, the one supreme act which was to level all distinctions, which was to place all business upon an equal footing, which was to cure all the economic ills of the country. And who was back of this huge philanthropic move? Rollins—Sumner Rollins, the Napoleon of the railroad world. And who was back of Sumner Rollins? Henry Breed. Yet another step, who was back of Breed? Phillip Kelvin. There was the man! Until Kelvin had come Breed had done none of these radical things. Since Kelvin had appeared upon the scene Breed had broken up the Stock Exchange, he had reduced the price of bread to cost, he had disintegrated the Unified Steel corporation, he had removed the unjust discrimination of the railroads; ergo, Kelvin was really the big force of all this reformation.

Kelvin! Great was Kelvin! Column upon column was printed about him, his past life, his phenomenal rise, his tremendous executive ability. He became a national figure overnight, as it were. Men talked about him at clubs, in cafes, in street cars, in their homes, wherever they were congregated. About the flat rate, however, certain men merely winked. It was a splendid piece of buncombe for the public. It was a splendid weapon which would give Breed power of life and death over any business upon which he chose to exert it, but that it meant just what it stated on the surface was past belief.

Suave gentlemen representing various large interests trailed Rollins from his New York offices down to Forest Lakes to meet in succession quite rude stocks. There was positively no satisfaction to be had from Rollins.

The first of these was John G. Hepperdon, the head of the petroleum trust, one of the most perfect combines in existence and one which had been built almost entirely upon rebates and freight concessions of various sorts. Mr. Hepperdon was a trifle impatient over the necessity of having to make such a trip and was insistent upon coming to a crisp working basis at once. For that reason he did not go to Mr. Rollins at all. He very calmly walked over that gentleman's figurative head to Mr. Breed.

"Hello, Breed," said he, walking in upon that gentleman as he sat in his library poring over a set of photographs, one of which happened to be Mr. Hepperdon's. "Let's get down to blunt bedrock on this freight proposition. How much of a rebate are we to get, and what percentage of it goes to you individually?"

"Glad to see you, Hepperdon," said Breed. "It has been a long time since I had the pleasure of a brush with you. Where have you been keeping yourself so long?"

"Just got back from Europe," said Hepperdon. "But how about this freight business? I have to get back on the next train."

"Out of my hands entirely," said Breed. "You'll have to see Mr. Rollins," and he rang for Kelvin, to whom he gravely introduced Hepperdon. "Mr. Kelvin, take Mr. Hepperdon up and introduce him to Mr. Rollins," said he.

Kelvin smilingly did so and, having introduced the two gentlemen, quietly withdrew.

"There is to be no rebate," declared Rollins. "Why should there be a rebate? You have to ship over our roads, and you may be thankful that we are making only a fair percentage yielding rate. As a matter of fact, the previously published rate has been lowered."

"That is exactly what I don't like about it. You haven't set your rate high enough for a good margin of profit from the small shippers."

"The margin of profit on all shipments is to be exactly the same," replied Rollins. "Just disabuse your mind, Mr. Hepperdon, of the idea that there is to be a concession of any sort. There is no use in discussing the matter because this is flat and final."

"Do you mean that?" demanded Hepperdon.

"I mean it absolutely."

Hepperdon studied him in silence for awhile. There was no doubt that Rollins meant precisely what he said.

"Very well," snapped Hepperdon. "Within two weeks there will be a special bill introduced into the United States house of representatives dissolving your railroad combination."

Hepperdon was waddling out of the house fuming without stopping to make any further adieus to Breed when Kelvin stopped him in the hall.

"Mr. Breed would like to see you for a few minutes before you go."

"Hepperdon, about how much political influence do you actually control?" asked Breed.

"More than any one aggregation of business interests in the United States," declared Hepperdon. "I own exclusively a cabinet officer, five United States senators, more than a dozen United States representatives and half a dozen governors and minor officials, state legislators and the like running up into the hundreds. Besides that, I have partnership interests in connection with other large commercial forces in two or three times as many more political leaders."

"That tallies very well with our estimate," said Breed. "We may want to borrow this influence of yours a little later on, Hepperdon. In the meantime suppose you just go ahead and pay this flat rate of Rollins' and say nothing. Leave it to me."

"Sure," said Hepperdon. "I knew there must be a nigger in the wood pile some place. You're looking very well indeed, Breed."

The next day brought Raymer, rawboned and wooden featured, but fairly oily in his suavity, and the head of the beef trust, and Valentine, little and screechy and marked with countless black freckles, and the head of the woolen combine. In unison and garnished with many rugged expletives, Mr. Raymer and Mr. Valentine declared to Mr. Rollins that they would invoke special legislation which would put his railway monopoly out of the business, dissolve it and separate it into healthy competition, scatter it into easily handled fragments and incidentally remove Mr. Rollins from any and all spheres of activity whatsoever forever and a day—and then some! On their way out Kelvin led them in to see Mr. Breed, who, with Kelvin's assistance, tabulated Mr. Raymer's and Mr. Valentine's legislative control.

The ensuing two weeks were taken up by a succession of such incidents as these, and at the conclusion of that time Representative Oswald introduced into the house a bill providing that no railroad should own stock in another one; that no man should vote control, by proxy or ownership, in more than one of two or more competing roads and that no railroad official should hold either office or stock in another line of rails which reached between any two same shipping points. This was the straw, or, rather, the bale of straw, which snapped Rollins' already highly strung nervous tension. He came to Breed and Kelvin in much distress. Really, it was not so much a surprise to Kelvin and Breed as it might have been, for it was they who had instructed Hepperdon as to the psychological moment in which to have Oswald introduce his bill.

"I expected nothing else," said Breed, glancing at the marconigram and handing it to Kelvin. "You know, we told you in the first place that it might be necessary to make certain concessions."

"Never!" declared Rollins. "We'll fight them to the last ditch. They have introduced this bill, but they have not yet passed it."

"But they will the minute it comes to a vote," said Kelvin. "Come up to my rooms and let me show you a diagram, Mr. Rollins."

In his office Phillip displayed a curious sheet of cardboard almost as large as the top of his desk upon which the name of every senator and every United States representative was set down. A few were marked in red as men who were not for sale, but the rest, the vast majority, were divided into groups, one "owned" by Hepperdon, another by Raymer, another by Valentine, etc., and the names were in some places cross grouped showing that certain of the senators and certain of the representatives served several nonconflicting interests. The diagram told at a glance precisely how every man would vote on this bill.

"This thing is incredible," declared Rollins. "Such a state of affairs can not exist."

"Such a state of affairs does exist," asserted Kelvin. "You may close your eyes and touch a pencil point in succession upon any half dozen names there not ringed with red. Wire those gentlemen and ask them to tell you by tomorrow how they intend to vote on this bill."

"I'll do it," said Rollins.

By afternoon Rollins had answers to all his wires. Four declared without reserve that they were for the bill—on principle. Two answered evasively.

"It looks bad, but we mustn't allow this state of affairs," protested Rollins. "We must use counter strategy."

"There is only one that I know of," stated Kelvin quietly. "Concessions."

"I will resign from my management before I make a solitary concession!" declared Rollins.

"Would you pay $5,000 for a building lot if you know that you could immediately sell it for $10,000?" demanded Kelvin.

"Certainly," replied Rollins. "But I don't see where the illustration applies."

"In just this way," explained Kelvin. "With concessions buy legislators from enough of these men to secure legislative control and go after the balance. This gives your flat rate pretty wide scope, Rollins, and it protects us until we can control our own legislation. We have, Mr. Breed and myself, as you must have appreciated by now, certain large ideas of reform. There never was a more just and equitable contrivance than your flat freight rate, but you can see at once what powerful interests are arrayed against it. We must conciliate those interests in order to cripple them. We will rent Hepperdon's and Raymer's senators until we can buy them or supplant them with some of our own."

Rollins was silent for a long time.

"It is a very simple proposition, Rollins," urged Breed. "You are only granting these concessions in order to be able later on to refuse them."

"Doing evil that good may come, eh?" laughed Rollins a little uneasily.

"Put it that way if you like," responded Breed dryly, "but when you are president of the United States, with the house of representatives and the senate in thorough sympathy with you"—

"President!" exclaimed Rollins.

"Yes, president," returned Breed. "I don't mind telling you our slate now. Our program includes this coming campaign running Kelvin for president and yourself for vice president. Mr. Kelvin wants but four years as president. At the expiration of his term of office we intend to put you up for president."

"And we'll elect you," supplemented Kelvin confidently.

"President!" repeated Rollins in a daze.

They had touched the right cord. To be president!

"The plans are under way," stated Breed. "We have had them secretly at work for a year. Today we could almost do without Hepperdon and Raymer and the others, but not quite. What do you suppose became of all the so called 'railroad senators?' Did you ever wonder why they bothered you so little? Well, I took care of them—added them to my group. Mr. Rollins, I am an old man." Breed's hand strayed to the corner of his table where lay his well thumbed old Bible. He clasped it in his hand and pressed it against his body. "I am an old man, an old, old man," he repeated. "I have done some evil in my life, I suppose, but all this time I have been acquiring power, more power than any man in the world has ever possessed, and I intend to use this power for good. I intend to upset the very conditions by which I gained this power, for it is the fault of our economic system that I have so wonderfully succeeded. This fault is to be remedied. For the rest of my life I intend to exert this great power for nothing but good, to exert it in making a readjustment of our living conditions so that neither great wealth nor great poverty shall be possible. The Lord hath set the time for this great day, and mine is the appointed hand!"

Gobs of Gloom in Gibsontown

The great Gibson school team stands in danger of disruption. Two star players who have contributed largely towards making the team famous threaten to leave. The Gibson press agent was on the job early this morning with the news that Principal Roy E. Jensen is trying to hold the aggregation together until its schedule has been completed.

Clyde Miner, the heavy hitting first baseman who has struck out but once this year, and C. C. Cole, pitcher, have offers elsewhere. Youngwood wants Miner, the "perfect batsman," according to the press agent, and Second Ward is after Cole.

Gibson has to date won 9 games and lost 2. It will have a strong team again next year.

TROUT STREAMS

Will Be Protected by the State Police Force.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 24.—The greater part of the State police force will be distributed throughout the State on sub-station duty within a short time, and a considerable number of the men will assist the fish wardens in patrolling streams, to aid in keeping down violations of the fish laws. This duty occupies the State's officers for several weeks each spring, and has aided materially in checking raids upon streams and the killing of fish.

A list of trout and other fishing streams in Western Pennsylvania has been compiled for the police department by the State Department of Fisheries, and the wardens and troopers will co-operate. It is the plan to send a considerable part of the Butler and Greensburg troops on such duty, and reports of violations of the fish laws will be followed up.

Within the last week a number of the troopers have been engaged in plain clothes duty, familiarizing themselves with the lay of the land in various sections, patrolling the rivers, noting fish baskets and other places. Some of the streams recently stocked with trout fry also have been looked over.

RAILROAD MEN ARE SUMMONED.

Will Be Asked to Explain Pittsburg District Coal Rates.

HEARING IS IN WASHINGTON

Connellsville Region Is Represented by Several Operators—So Far Few of the Coal Producers Have Appeared in the Case.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—A long list of witnesses will appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission, in the hearing against the coal-carrying roads of the Pittsburg district, which began today. John W. Bollenu, who instituted the application for the reduction of the rates, is here, and has to a large extent, superintended the subpoenaing of the witnesses.

There are many Pittsburgers in the list. For the most part they are officers of the roads from whom the attorneys for Mr. Bollenu will endeavor to secure admissions that the rates are excessive. Bollenu and Wade H. Ellis, his chief counsel, are confident that there will be little trouble in demonstrating that the rates are discriminatory, the tariffs themselves showing that discrepancies exist as between the Pittsburg and Southern districts and also as regards different parts of the Pittsburg.

The railroad men summoned include officers of the Pittsburg & Lake Erie, the New York Central, which controls the Lake Erie, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, the Pennsylvania company and Pennsylvania Railroad Company and other roads.

So far as the facts are known it has not as yet appeared that Mr. Bollenu is securing any great amount of help from coal producing companies of the Pittsburg district. Only a few coal men are known to be among the witnesses so far subpoenaed, but it is expected that the case will develop a very interesting state of affairs as re the coal companies. The railroads and the officers and stockholders of the coal companies. The railroads have intimated an intention to try to show that Bollenu is not a bona fide coal operator, but a speculator, and that the coal producing interests of Pittsburg are satisfied with the rates.

The list of witnesses so far as known is as follows:

W. A. Terry, assistant traffic manager New York Central lines, Chicago; E. H. Kennedy, auditor, Pittsburg & Lake Erie Company, Pittsburg; G. M. Glazier, auditor Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway, Cleveland, O.; J. W. Riley, superintendent Pittsburg & Lake Erie, Pittsburg; D. T. Murray, superintendent Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Youngstown; J. P. Orr, assistant freight traffic manager Pennsylvania Company, Pittsburg; D. T. McCabe, fourth vice president Pennsylvania Company, Pittsburg; A. B. Starr, general superintendent freight transportation, Pennsylvania Company, Pittsburg; A. M. Shoyer, general superintendent Pennsylvania Company, Pittsburg; A. P. Griest, auditor coal and ore freight receipts, Pennsylvania Company, Pittsburg; Robert H. Large, general coal freight agent, Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Philadelphia; Oscar A. Knipe, auditor coal freight receipts, Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Philadelphia; R. M. Patterson, superintendent freight transportation, Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Philadelphia; John G. Patterson, Pittsburg; J. T. M. Stoneroad, Carnegie Steel Company, Pittsburg; J. H. Sanford, of the J. H. Sanford Coal Company, Pittsburg; Alexander Dempster, Pittsburg.

A map made at a cost of $3,000, 24 feet long and 14 feet high, showing in contrasting colors the various railroad lines in the territory from Denver to Boston and from Kentucky to the Great Lakes, with all the coal and ore lands plainly marked, was set up in the hearing room of the Interstate Commerce Commission today in preparation for the hearing to be held before the commission this week on the complaints of the coal operators of the Pittsburg district and the coke producers of the Connellsville region against the freight rates to lake ports on coal and the general freight rates on coke charged by the Pennsylvania and other roads.

The map was made on orders from John W. Bollenu, of Pittsburg, acting in the interest of the coal operators and coke producers. It is intended to give the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission, at a glance, the basis of complaints that the freight rates on coal from the Pittsburg district to lake ports are excessive in themselves and discriminatory as compared with the rates charged for the longer hauls from the Kentucky and West Virginia coal fields.

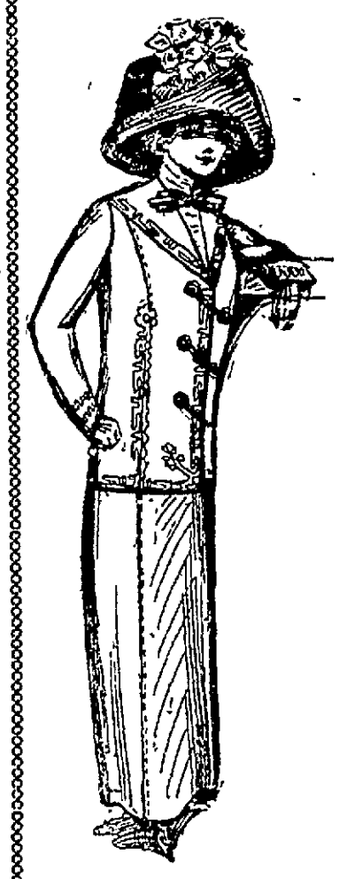

The map will also enable the commission to appreciate the basis of the complaints of the Pittsburg district operators that they deserve consideration at the hands of the roads, because of the fact that the cars which take coal from the Pittsburg district to the lake ports have a profitable back haul of ore from the lake ore districts, while there is no such back haul of ore of the Kentucky and West Virginia coal regions, devoid as they are of iron and steel industries.

A committee consisting of John Brennen, L. W. Fogg, Harry Whyel, I. W. Semans and H. H. Rowe arrived in Washington this morning, representing the Fayette County Coke Producers' Association.

Brown's Case is Before Presbytery

Special to The Courier.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 24.—A special meeting of the Pittsburg Presbytery went into session behind closed doors today to consider the overture directed against Professor William Adams Brown of the Union Theological Seminary, New York. The overture, which was introduced by the Rev. Dr. M. L. McEwen of this city, asks for an investigation of certain alleged heretical statements made by the New York professor in reference to the Bible and miracles. It is believed likely that the local Presbytery will decided to refer the overture to the Presbyterian General Assembly which is to meet in annual session in Atlantic City next month.

Are You Troubled With Your Stomach?

Harmering's Dyspepsia Tablets give instant relief from distress in the stomach due to Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and Catarrh of the Stomach; they also remove the cause of Heartburn and Acid Fermentation. They do not act by strongly stimulating the glands, secreting the digestive ferments, but digest the food themselves; in so doing they neutralize the cause, resulting in poor assimilation of food, by assisting the stomach during an abnormal digestion.

These tablets are sold and positively guaranteed only by
